The Deposition of Joseph Strickland Aged Sixty Years or thereabouts who being Deposed upon the holy Evangelist Declares as followeth that about Seventeen or Eighteen years since he the said Dep. heard old Francis Bellowsly say - That he the said Bellowsly cutt the Stiches out of a bounded Chestnut Tree that was first bounded for Robertsons Rest by reason the person that was concerned could not agree about the said Chestnut for the Beginning, and further this Deponent saith that the said Bellowsly told this Deponent that he the said Bellowsly did bound another Tree in Lieu of the said Chestnut and further saith not. - W<sup>m</sup> Turner, George Young

The Deposition of John Beak aged Eighty Eight years or thereabouts who being Deposed upon the holy Evangelist Declares as followeth viz. - This Depont. D. goe before any of the Company as we was going to the bound of the said Land called goodluck and did carry us to a bounded white oak which stood on a point by the mouth of a Branch called the Beech Branch and this Depont. said as that was the first bounded Tree of the Land called goodluck and that he bounded the said Tree when he laid the said Land out and further this Depont. saith that when he the said Depont. sett his East Course at the time he Surveyed the said Tract of Land he perceived that the said East Course would leave the said Branch and he the said Dep. said to Capt. Cobrath that the East Course would leave the Branch and Capt. Cobrath made answer to him the said Depont. again and said no matter for the Branch keep you your Course on which word this Depont. saith he went on with his east Course one hundred and fifty perches supposing to be at the Line of Robertsons Rest but for fear they should not be in the said Line each Capt. Cobrath and this Depont. concluded to bind for old Richard Stallins on which Conclusion this Depont. saith that Capt. Cobrath went himself to said Stallins and brought said Stallins Down with him and the mean time that the said Cobrath was gone ~~to~~ to fetch the said Stallins he the said Depont. lay himself down to the Rest just by the place where the number of one hundred and fifty perches ended and then the said Stallins came he the said Stallings did show Capt. Cobrath, and this Deponent the line of Robertsons Rest which did agree very well with the place they supposed the line of Robertsons Rest to be And this Depont. further saith that at that time he did bound a white oak on high ground and in the aforesaid Line of
