Article - Financial Institutions

6-501.

As to each interest bearing or share account of each member or depositor in a credit union, the credit union shall generally make available to any member or depositor with an existing account, in addition to actually giving to the member or depositor, on the opening of the interest bearing or share account and, later, on demand of the member or depositor the following written notice:

"Under Maryland law, all funds remaining in this interest bearing or share account become the property of this State after the account has been inactive for [5] 3 years and notice is sent to the member or depositor at that member's or depositor's last known address. This account will be considered inactive if the member or depositor has not: (1) increased or decreased the amount in the account; (2) presented the passbook or other similar evidence of the account for the crediting of interest or dividends; (3) written to this credit union about the account; (4) engaged in any credit, share, or other deposit transaction with the credit union; or (5) otherwise indicated an interest in the account as evidenced by a memorandum on file with this credit union."

DRAFTER'S NOTE:

Error: Obsolete language in § 6-501 of the Financial Institutions Article.

Occurred: As a result of Ch. 440, Acts of 2002. Correction recommended
