Section 5–218

Annotated Code of Maryland

(2004 Replacement Volume and 2004 Supplement)

Preamble

WHEREAS, The economy of Maryland needs an educated workforce to be competitive; and

WHEREAS, An estimated 613,640 Maryland adults do not have a high school diploma; and

WHEREAS, High school dropouts who earn a high school diploma can earn an extra $7,000 in annual income; and

WHEREAS, The literacy level of a parent is the best predictor of a child’s literacy achievement; and

WHEREAS, The National Adult Literacy Survey reports that 20% of Marylanders function at the lowest literacy level; and

WHEREAS, Maryland provides adult education and literacy services to only 4% of the target population; and

WHEREAS, Each year, over 16,000 Maryland adults apply to take the GED test and 45% fail the test due to lack of preparation; and

WHEREAS, Over 88,000 foreign-born residents who “do not speak English well” or “at all” entered the State since the last census was taken; and

WHEREAS, 4,000 to 5,000 adults are on waiting lists for adult education and literacy services annually; and

WHEREAS, The task force appointed by the General Assembly in 2001 to study adult education-related services recommended increasing funding; now, therefore,
