

shall constitute the University of Maryland, to be controlled and governed as may be directed.

Law School
located in Annapolis.

SEC. 5. The Law School of the University of Maryland shall be located at Annapolis, and be connected with St. John's College, Annapolis, with the consent of the Board of Visitors of said College, and the sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated, to be paid on the first day of April in each year, to the Board of Visitors of St. John's College to aid in supporting the Law School whenever it shall be organized to the satisfaction of the State Board of Education. For every one hundred dollars granted to the Law School, one pupil, a graduate of one of the Colleges of the University of Maryland shall enjoy all the privileges of Lectures and other instruction, free of charge.

Who to have
free tuition.

SEC. 6. Graduates of the High Schools of the city of Baltimore and of the several Colleges, shall always have preference for appointments to the privileges of free tuition in college. Such appointments shall be made by the Director and President of Board of District Commissioners on the first day of July in each year. All applicants shall be examined and their fitness determined by the faculty of the College to which they are appointed and those who are not graduates of High Schools must present satisfactory certificates of scholastic ability, industry and good morals, before they can be examined for admission to any College.

Appointments
to be divided
among Counties
and City.

SEC. 7. These appointments shall be divided among the city of Baltimore and the counties according to population, and in case the city of Baltimore or any county does not by the first day of September, avail itself of the privilege of nominating students, then the vacancies may be