Question. Did you see that flag before it was put up?

Answer. No; I only recollect seeing it while it was flying.

Question. Do you remember what was on that flag?

Answer. It lookdd like the coat of arms of the State, I suppose.

Question. Do you know whether there was a device on both sides of it?

Answer. I think not.

Question. Are you prepared to say positively that there was not?

Answer. I think I can say positively there was not.

By the Committee.

Question by the Committee. You told us you were a member of the Horse Guards, and that you had been on picket duty, when you were asked to go on picket duty, who commissioned you?

Answer. The Captain and Lieut. Merryman, I suppose.

Question by the Committee. What instructions had you?

Answer. To take orders that might be sent from one post to another.

Question by the Committee. How many times were you out on picket duty?

Answer. Two (2) or three (3) times.

Question by the Committee. Were you relieved at the end of several hours, and some one else took your place?

Answer. Yes.

Question by the Committee. Do the committee understand you to say that you were in the crowd at Ady's Hotel, when the flag was raised?

Answer. No; I arrived there not many minutes afterwards.

Question by the Committee. Did you of your knowledge know that it had been put up many minutes?

Answer. I ascertained that from the persons in the crowd.

Cross-examination resumed.

Question. About what distance was the pole from where this crowd stood?

Answer. Twenty (20) or thirty (30) yards I suppose; the pole was on the same side of the pike that Ady's is, where the crowd was, with a road running between.

The examination of this witness was here concluded.
