

Answer. I don't remember any more—I think I saw Dr. Bosley.

Question. At the time you reached Ady's, had the flag reached its place on the staff?

Answer. Pretty nearly so.

Question. How far from Ady's is your place of business?

Answer. Some sixty (60) or seventy (70) yards, I suppose about two (2) squares.

Question. You spoke of a second flag-raising, when was that?

Answer. That was some time after the first; I do't recollect how long; that was a new flag, which the ladies had made up by subscription.

Question. Were you there at the time that was raised?

Answer. Yes.

Question. Was Mr. Grason about at the time that flag was raised?

Answer. I do not recollect indeed.

Question. Do you know whether there was any cheering, groaning, hissing or any demonstrations of any kind, at Ady's when that flag was raised?

Answer. I did not hear any.

Question. Where were you at the time?

Answer. I was up there.

Question. Was there any speaking at that time by any body?

Answer. There was speaking at the hall by, I think, Mr. Yellott; I do not recollect whether there was any speaking in the open air; there was a fight at Ady's porch, and I went down there.

By the Committee.

Question by the Committee. What day was that?

Answer. Sometime after the first raising; I don't recollect the day.

Cross-examination resumed.

Question. Do you know of an organization moving about Towsontown at that time, known as the Horse Guards?

Answer. Yes.

Question. Did you see any members of that company about at the time of the raising of either flags?

Answer. Mr. Ady, Mr. John Butler and Dr. Bosley were members of the Horse Guards.

Question. Did you see any other members of the company besides those—any officers of the company?

Answer. Not that I recollect.
