Answer. I did not see any: I think there was some milk brought out by a servant who asked one of them if he would have a glass of milk.

Question. Was the milk given to them without their asking for it?

Answer. Yes.

Question. Do you know of their having been any encampment in the vicinity of Towsontown at that time?

Answer. Only what I heard.

Question. Did I understand you to say that you did not know the direction from which the scouts came?

Answer. The first I saw of them they were there.

Question. In what direction did they go when they left?

Answer. Towards Towsontown.

Question. Was the place at which you saw them at the road of Dulaney's valley?

Answer. It was the opposite direction.

Question. One of the roads runs easterly, and the other north-easterly?

Answer. Yes.

Question. At what place did they state that they saw Mr. Grason's brother?

Answer. At Hanover Junction.

Question. Did they specify what Hanover Junction, whether in Pennsylvania or in Virginia?

Answer. They did not specify it.

Question. Did you say there were inquiries made for Harry Gilmor on that day?

Answer. No: there was inquiry made of those parties belonging to his company.

Question. Was there no inquiry made as to where their captain was?

Answer. No: I heard one of them say he belonged to Harry Gilmor's company.

Question. Did you see any more rebels in Towsontown, at that time?

Answer. I saw them the next day.

Question. How many did you see that time? Answer. Probably forty (40) or fifty (50.) Question. Was Harry Gilmor with them?

Answer. I did not see him: I was at the top of the house; I did not leave the house; I could not see them as they passed along.

Question. Do you know whether Mr. Grason remained in the house at the time?

Answer. I do not know that I saw him out.

Question. How long after the battle of Bull Run did Mr. Grason return to Towsontown?

Answer. In the neighborhood of a couple of weeks.

Question. How long had he been gone?