

Question. You do not remember having seen Mr. Grason there, do you?

Answer. No.

Question. Did you hear any cheers of any kind, or demonstration of approval or disapproval among the crowd at the hotel?

Answer. No.

Question. Were you there about half an hour?

Answer. Yes.

Question. During all that time, what were those persons at Ady's Hotel doing?

Answer. They were standing about; they had a little row; that was, I think, when the flag was going up; perhaps when it was up.

Question. Did you notice while the flag was going up it caught?

Answer. Yes: there was some difficulty.

Question. At that time was your attention directed towards the flag or the persons at Ady's?

Answer. I was attending to the persons at Ady's.

Question. You saw this company at the time it started for Baltimore, did you not?

Answer. Yes.

Question. Was Mr. Grason with them at the time?

Answer. Yes: he was with them a while before they did start.

Question. In uniform?

Answer. Yes.

Question. Can you state whether or not any considerable portion of them wore badges of any kind?

Answer. I cannot say: I remember seeing some men with badges on: I remember seeing Mr. Davis with a badge.

Question. What kind of a badge was it?

Answer. It had on Southern rights.

Question. Was that that day?

Answer. I think it was—it might have been after that—the next week.

Question. How long was that company under arms at that time?

Answer. Not long.

Question. During that time or any portion of it where was their headquarters?

Answer. That is more than I can say, if they had any head quarters.

Question. Where did the officers seem to be—head quarters from the saddle?

Answer. I do not know. I was not out there till late in the evening.

Question. Do you remember what flag was flying over Ady's Hotel at that time?

Answer. None at that time. I saw a flag some days afterwards with the Maryland coat of arms on it.