Answer. I did not see him then.

Question. Did you see him at all?

Answer. I saw him the next evening.

Question. How many men were there when you saw him the next day?

Answer. Three; afterwards all the others came down; it was ($\frac{3}{4}$) three quarters of an hour after the first came.

Question. Did you know any of those men?

Answer. No.

Question. At what place was it that you saw Mr. Grason with them?

Answer. About (300) three hundred yards from his house where the roads fork.

Question. Did you speak of your own knowledge when you said the Commissioners and the Judges of election of Baltimore county were loyal men?

Answer. As far as I know they are.

Question. Do you know all the Judges in the county?

Answer. I don't know all in the county; I know all in my district.

Question. Are you personally acquainted with all the Commissioners?

Answer. No.

Question. You do not speak then of your own personal knowledge in reference to them—when you speak of them being loyal?

Answer. No; they are considered loyal and called Union men.

Direct examination resumed.

Question. You say the Baltimore County Horse Guards left the Hall that week, do you?

Answer. Yes.

Question. Could they make it their headquarters when the Towson Guards were constantly there?

Answer. No.

Question. Was it on that account they left your hall?

Answer. I suppose that was it; our men staid there at night.

Question. When you saw Mr. Grason with the three (3) men of which you spoke at the forks of the road, was there a crowd assembled around?

Answer. Yes; pretty much every one of the place was there; men, women and children of all parties; members of the Towson Guards and Horse Guards.

Question. Did you see Mr. Grason do or say anything?

Answer. No.
