

Question. Did you see him get on the horse?

Answer. Yes, he was about a hundred (100) yards from me.

Question. Before you went up there did you see any other rebels?

Answer. No.

Question. What were you doing between the time that they went up towards your father's and you went up?

Answer. I was talking with a boy up the turnpike.

Question. Were ther any other boys, except your brother, that got on behind the horses?

Answer. No.

Question. Did you know any of those that came in on Monday night?

Answer. Yes; I knew Stenie White and Harry W. Hayward, that's all.

Question. Had you any conversation with them?

Answer. No; I spoke to them.

Question. Did your brother get on the horse, or was he helped on?

Answer. He got up himself.

Question. Did I understand you correctly that you went around and told your father that they were there?

Answer. Yes.

Question. What were they doing between the time that they got up to the house and the time you went around and told your father?

Answer. They were talking with Mr. Ruby and our cook.

Question. What is the name of your cook?

Answer. Jane.

Question. Did they come out at once when the rebels got there?

Answer. A few minutes afterwards.

Question. Did you know who they were; what troops they were, when they first came there and asked for Mr. Robert's house?

Answer. No; I supposed they were rebels.

Question. Did you know of the rebels being in that vicinity?

Answer. Yes; I had heard they were.

Question. Did you say that you did not know who they were on Monday evening?

Answer. No; I did not; I supposed they were rebels.

Question. Were they in uniform?

Answer. Yes.

Question. What sort?

Answer. One of them had on a gray pants and black velvet jacket; another one had on a gray uniform; another had on the Union uniform; those were the ones I saw on Sunday evening.