

The report was adopted, and the nomination was rejected.

The following communication which had been received from His Excellency, Governor Bradford, by the hands of J. M. Carter, private Secretary,

Was read.

STATE OF MARYLAND,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

Annapolis, March 2d, 1865.

To the Senate:

The Act of 1864, chapter 346, requires the appointment of Tobacco Inspectors to be made before the first Monday of February, at "each regular session of the General Assembly," and though the day so named had passed before my attention was particularly directed to this requirement, I still deem it incumbent on me to make the appointment during the present session. I therefore submit for your advice and consent the following nominations for that office:

James T. Perkins, of Prince George's county, Tobacco Inspector, for Warehouse No. 1.

James Turner, of Anne Arundel county, Tobacco Inspector, for Warehouse No. 2.

Philemon Griffith, of Montgomery county, Tobacco Inspector, for Warehouse No. 3.

William Welsh, of Baltimore city, Tobacco Inspector, for Warehouse No. 4.

John Moorehead, of Baltimore city, Tobacco Inspector, for Warehouse No. 5.

I also submit the following nominations:

Frank H. Stockett, Nicholas Brewer (of John,) and Benjamin O'Harra, of Anne Arundel county, State Bounty Board for said county.

Nelson C. Read, John H. Young and Hopewell Hebb, of Allegany county, State Bounty Board for said county.

Job Smith, Benjamin Deford and Henry W. Drakeley, of Baltimore city, State Bounty Board for said city.

Chauncey Brooks, William J. Albert and John M. Orem, of Baltimore county, State Bounty Board for said county.

Jacob Reese, John W. Gorsuch and Levi Valentine, of Carroll county, State Bounty Board for said county.
