Included in this question, and the emigrant portion of that army would fight for a dirty shirt tail if it was hung up as soon as they would for the Union flag, would you say he was a loyal man.

Ans. No I would not.

BERNARD McCROSSIN.

DEPOSITION NO. 3.

Mr. Edward McCauly, being duly sworn deposed and said as follows:

Page 2, Question 1.

Ans. I am. I have known him intimately for the last thirty years, we have lived near each other for the past ten or fifteen years.

Page 2, Question 2.

I have had frequent intercourse with him and we hardly ever met, without speaking freely on the State of affairs in our country.

Page 2, Question 3.

It was in 1861, I believe South Carolina seceded. Dr. Maclin denounced secession as a heresy, said that other States in the South would go with her, and that he was afraid the result would be we would all be ruined by her rashness. After that time I do not remember exactly when, when the Federal forces were ordered through the city of Baltimore and was attacked by the mob he, Dr. Maclin, denounced that also in very strong terms to me, he said he was afraid the consequences of such rashness was very much to be dreaded. After that time there was a meeting at Clarksville for the purpose of raising what they called the Home Guard. He Dr. Maclin would not go, I, Edward McCauley, happened there on other business which if necessary I can state. The gathering was large some hundred or more perhaps persons present, who joined that company, all I believe except myself and one other (the son of Upton Dorsey) shortly after that time I was at Dr. Maclin's house and told him about the meeting at
