

Ans. The Captain with many of his men have gone South I believe.

Ques. Have not others of that organization remained behind, some of whom went armed to Baltimore during the outbreak of 1861, and have they not been voting at your district poll on election days?

Ans. I know of some, I can't say how many. One of whom was my brother, Joseph McCauley. It was my business at Clarksville the evening that the company was formed of which I formerly spoke, to deliver a letter from my brother and tell him myself that I had fixed up all that he, Joseph McCauley had belonging to the State; told him and others that they had deceived him and me once, but would not do it again; the next day I believe I took all that belonged to the State to Capt. Gaither's house, and in his absence delivered the same to his wife.

I mean that he deceived me by telling me that the order for the company to turn out and go to Baltimore was issued by Governor Hicks. The order was not so issued.

Ques. At all elections held subsequent to the period of which you speak, has not Dr. Maclin been acting in political fellowship with those of whom you spoke as the machine movers of that meeting?

Ans. I believe that they have voted the same ticket, that is the Democratic ticket.

Question marked thus X.

Ans. It depends on circumstances. I don't know that I am capable of saying what is loyal or disloyal in every sense of the word, but I should say such language was ugly talk.

By Dr. Maclin. Did Dr. Maclin or any of his family belong to Capt. Gaither's company?

Ans. No, none of them.

EDWARD McCAULY.
