

polygraph examinations, or interrogations which specifically relate to the subject matter of the investigation. This subtitle does not prevent a law-enforcement agency from commencing any action which may lead to a punitive measure as a result of a law-enforcement officer's refusal to submit to a blood alcohol test, blood, breath, or urine tests for controlled dangerous substances, polygraph examination, or interrogation, after having been ordered to do so by the law-enforcement agency. The results of any blood alcohol test, blood, breath, or urine test for controlled dangerous substances, polygraph examination, or interrogation, as may be required by the law-enforcement agency under this subparagraph are not admissible or discoverable in any criminal proceedings against the law-enforcement officer when the law-enforcement officer has been ordered to submit thereto. The results of a polygraph examination may not be used as evidence in any administrative hearing when the law-enforcement officer has been ordered to submit to a polygraph examination by the law-enforcement agency unless the agency and the law-enforcement officer agree to the admission of the results at the administrative hearing.

(9) If the law-enforcement officer under interrogation is under arrest, or is likely to be placed under arrest as a result of the interrogation, he shall be completely informed of all his rights prior to the commencement of the interrogation.

However, the chief may, for good cause shown, within that ten day period, extend that period of time.

(11) A statute may not abridge and a law-enforcement agency may not adopt any regulation which prohibits the right of a law-enforcement officer to bring suit arising out of his duties as a law-enforcement officer.

(12) (i) A law-enforcement agency may not insert any adverse material into any file of the officer, except the file of the internal investigation or the intelligence division, unless the officer has an opportunity to review, sign, receive a copy of, and comment in writing upon the adverse material, unless the officer waives these rights.
