Article 101 - Workmen's Compensation

8.

(b) If a person in attendance before the Commission or a commissioner [refuse] REFUSES, without reasonable cause, to be examined or to answer a legal and pertinent question, or to produce a book or paper when ordered to do so by the Commission, the Commission may, and, upon request of any party to proceedings before the Commission, shall apply to any judge of the circuit court of any county, upon proof by affidavit of the fact, for a rule or order returnable in not less than two or more than five days, directing such person to show cause before the judge who made the order, or any other judge aforesaid, why he should not be committed to jail; upon the return of such order, the judge before whom the matter and such person shall come on for a hearing shall examine under oath such person and such person shall be given an opportunity to be heard; and if the judge shall determine that such person has refused, without reasonable cause or legal excuse, to be examined or to answer a legal or pertinent question, or to produce a book or paper which he was ordered to bring or produce, he may forthwith commit the offender to jail, there to remain until he submits to do the act which he was so required to do, or is discharged according to law.

(b) The following shall constitute employees subject to the provisions of this act, except as exempted under subsection (c) of this section:

(8) Farming and dairy farming, other than office work, and including, by way of illustration and not by way of limitation, the operation of any machinery connected with any phase of soil, crop or animal management, construction and repairs of machinery and fixtures, and the handling of any crops or animals with or without machinery whether or not performed by a seasonal or migratory farm laborer.

(i) For the purposes of this section, a farmer is defined as one who has three (3) or more full-time employees or who has a yearly payroll for his full-time employees of at least fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).

(ii) For purposes of this section, "seasonal or migratory farm laborer" means a person who is engaged in agricultural employment of a seasonal or other temporary nature and who is either (a) absent overnight from his permanent place of residence or (b) transported or caused to be transported to and from the place of employment by means of a day-haul operation.
