

(a) Should the medical board report and certify to the board of trustees that any disability beneficiary is engaged in or is able to engage in a gainful occupation paying more than the difference between his retirement allowance and his average final compensation plus $3,000, and should the board of trustees concur in such report, then the amount of his pension shall be reduced to an amount which, together with his annuity and the amount earnable by him, shall equal the amount of his average final compensation PLUS $3,000. Should his earning capacity be later changed, the amount of his pension may be further modified, provided that the new pension shall not exceed the amount of the pension originally granted nor an amount which, when added to the amount earnable by the beneficiary together with his annuity, equals the amount of his average final compensation PLUS $3,000. A beneficiary restored to active service at a salary less than the average final compensation upon the basis of which he was retired shall not become a member of the retirement system until his salary is at least equal to such average final compensation. For the purposes of this paragraph, "retirement allowance" shall mean the allowance payable without optional modification as hereinafter provided in subsection (11) of this section. The allowed earnings of a disability pensioner shall be determined by the difference between his retirement allowance at the time of his retirement and his average final compensation.

(5) Once each year, the board of trustees may, and upon his application shall require any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained age 60 to undergo a medical examination, such examination to be made at the place of residence of said beneficiary or other place mutually agreed upon, by a physician or physicians designated by the board of trustees. Should any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained the age of 60 refuse to submit to at least one medical examination in any such year by a physician or physicians designated by the board of trustees, his allowance may be discontinued until his withdrawal of such refusal, and should his refusal continue for one year, all his rights in and to his pension may be revoked by the board of trustees.

(a) Should the medical board report and certify to the board of trustees that such disability beneficiary is engaged in or is able to engage in a gainful occupation paying more than the difference between his retirement allowance and his average final compensation plus $3,000, and should the board of trustees concur in such report then the amount of his pension shall be reduced to an amount which together with his annuity and the amount earnable by him, shall equal the amount of his average final compensation PLUS $3,000. Should his earning capacity be later changed, the amount of his pension may be further modified; provided, that the new pension shall not exceed the amount of the pension originally granted nor an amount, which, when added to the amount earnable by the beneficiary together with his annuity, equals the amount of his average final compensation PLUS $3,000.
