

from cream or other substitute made or colored to imitate natural butter.]

[165.

Renovated butter, process butter, oleomargarine, butterine, or other butter substitute may be sold, if free from prohibited ingredients and otherwise wholesome, provided each vessel, package, roll or parcel of such substance be plainly and conspicuously branded by a stamp or label, with the true name of such substance in letters not NOT less than thirty-six point bold-faced gothic capitals, and also the name of each article or ingredient used or entering into the composition of such substance, in letters of reasonable size; and provided also that the seller keep constantly and conspicuously posted on all sides of the room in which the sale is made a placard the face of which shall contain plainly printed in black ink thereon in the English language, in type not smaller than six inches in height, the words "(the true name of the substance) sold here."]

[166.

Any proprietor or person in charge of hotel, boardinghouse, restaurant, or other place or vehicle where food is sold or served for pay, who shall serve, sell or use as butter any substance or compound other than that produced wholly from unadulterated milk or cream, with or without salt or harmless coloring matter, shall cause to be plainly printed on every bill of fare, if one be used, in letters not smaller than eight point bold-faced gothic capitals, in the English language, the words "(true name of substance) used here in place of butter"; and in case no bill of fare be used, shall cause to be conspicuously posted upon each side of the eating room or place, and in letters large enough to be distinctly seen and read from all parts of the room or place, placards containing on the face thereof in the English language the words, "(true name of substance) used here in place of butter"; and such person shall keep said placards continuously posted as aforesaid so long as such butter substitute be kept or used.]

[167.

The term "natural butter" as used in § 164 shall be understood to mean the product usually known by the term "butter," and which butter is manufactured exclusively from pure milk or cream, or both, with or without salt or harmless coloring matter.]

[168.

Anyone violating any of the provisions of §§ 164-167 shall for the first offense be punished by a fine of not less than $25, or more than $200; for a second offense, a fine of not less than