

or enforcement proceeding under this title and are not limited to a disciplinary hearing under § 4-325 of this title.

Also on the recommendation of the Joint Subcommittee, in subsection (a)(2)(iii) of this section, the reference to the "production of evidence" is added to provide express authority for the Commission to issue a subpoena for the production of evidence. Accordingly, in subsection (a)(4) of this section, the reference to a failure "to comply with a subpoena" is substituted for the former limited references to refusal or neglect to "attend" and refusal to "testify".

In subsection (a)(2)(iii) and (iv) of this section, the former limiting reference to "any person in the State" is deleted, on the recommendation of the Joint Subcommittee on the Business Occupations Article, to expand the power of the Commission to issue a subpoena and take a deposition.

In subsection (a)(3) of this section, the reference to a "private process server" is new language added at the request of the Maryland Association of Realtors, Inc., to provide expressly that a private process server may serve a subpoena.

In subsection (a)(4) of this section, the reference to a petition of "another party" is added on the recommendation of the Joint Subcommittee on the Business Occupations Article to expressly provide that any party to a proceeding may petition the court to compel compliance with a subpoena.

Also in subsection (a)(4) of this section, the former detailed references to compelling compliance by "attachment against said witness" are deleted as unnecessary. The revised item is based on language used in comparable provisions throughout the revised code.

Subsection (b)(1) of this section states a standard that is implicit in the scheme of provisions for injunctions. However, since the standard was stated explicitly in former Art. 56, § 231A, it is retained in this subsection.

In subsection (b)(1) of this section, the former provisions as to venue are deleted as surplusage.

Also in subsection (b)(1) of this section, the former reference to "continuing conduct" is deleted, on the
