

Subsection (a)(2) of this section and the reference to "attempts" in subsection (a)(1) of this section are new language added to conform to almost all of the occupational licensing acts adopted by the General Assembly in the past several years. See, e.g., the comparable sections on disciplinary action in the various titles of the Health Occupations Article. The General Assembly expressly decided that the language of these items was to be included in each of those sections as a fundamental ground for disciplining an applicant or a licensee.

Subsection (a)(10) of this section is new language added to conform to the requirement for local licensure under § 2-601 of this title.

Subsection (a)(11) of this section is new language added to conform to the requirement for general liability and property damage insurance under § 2-604 of this title.

In the introductory language of subsection (a) of this section, the phrase "deny a State license to any applicant" is standard language added to state expressly that which only was implied in the former law -- i.e., that the State Board may deny a State license to an applicant who violates a disciplinary provision under this section.

Also in the introductory language of subsection (a) of this section, the reference to the power of the State Board to reprimand a State licensee is added to state specifically a power that is inherent in the express power to suspend or revoke a State license.

In subsection (a)(5) and (7) of this section, the references to a "local jurisdiction" are substituted for the former references to "any municipality, city, or county", for consistency and brevity.

In subsection (b) of this section, the phrase "by another person" is substituted for the former phrase "by more than one person, firm, or corporation", to avoid the erroneous impression that anyone other than a State licensee may use the State license.

Former Art. 56, § 539(a)(6)(i), which allowed disciplinary action against a person knowingly combining or conspiring to allow "a license to be used by any unlicensed person . . .," is deleted as misleading and, in light of the revision of subsection (a)(3) of this section, unnecessary. The former reference to "any unlicensed person, firm, or
