

shall have the authority to hear any issues referred to said board, and the determination thereof by any two members shall be deemed to be the determination thereof by the board. The medical board shall have the power and authority to make rules regulating its procedure, to contract for laboratory work, to make necessary investigations of working conditions; to provide for ordering and the conducting of autopsies, to conduct hearings on medical questions, to determine medical issues, and to perform such other reasonable duties as the work of the board may require. The functions of the board shall be as set forth elsewhere in this article.

(b) The members of the medical board shall devote as much of their time as may be required to perform the duties and carry out the functions of the board as set forth in this article. The chairman of the medical board and the two associate members of the board shall receive an annual salary as provided in the budget, and each member of the board shall be entitled to the reasonable and necessary traveling and other expenses incurred while actually engaged in the performance of their duties.

(c) The provisions of this section and elsewhere in this article providing for the creation of the medical board of the Workmen's Compensation Commission and relating to its functions are of no effect and may not be enforced after June 1, 1983, and the terms of office of all board members shall terminate on that date, notwithstanding any other provision of law.]
