

requisite state of mind. While the former word "willfully" could be read to apply to the making of the statement itself, regardless of knowledge of its falsity, the word "knowingly" more clearly conveys the intended requirement that one be aware of the falsity of the statement.

Defined terms: "License" § 8-101
"Person" § 1-101

8-504. FRAUDULENTLY OR DECEPTIVELY OBTAINING LICENSE.

A PERSON MAY NOT FRAUDULENTLY OR DECEPTIVELY OBTAIN OR ATTEMPT TO OBTAIN A LICENSE.

REVISOR'S NOTE: This section is new language derived without substantive change from former Art. 56, § 526(a), as that subsection related to a violation of § 521(2).

The reference to "attempt" is added to conform to § 8-312(1) of this title. See the revisor's note to that section.

Defined terms: "License" § 8-101
"Person" § 1-101

8-505. PURCHASE OF LICENSE.

A PERSON MAY NOT BUY OR OTHERWISE OBTAIN BY GIVING CONSIDERATION A LICENSE CERTIFICATE WITH THE INTENTION OF USING IT TO INDICATE THAT THE PERSON IS AUTHORIZED TO PROVIDE HEARING AID SERVICES.

REVISOR'S NOTE: This section is new language derived without substantive change from former Art. 56, § 522(2).

The words "buy or otherwise obtain by giving consideration" are substituted for the former words "[p]urchase or procure by barter", for clarity.

The defined term "license" is substituted for the former limited reference to a "certificate of registration" since there seemed to be no intent to exclude an individual who obtains what formerly was
