

In subsection (a) of this section, the former reference to licensure "by written examination" is deleted so that the requirements in subsections (b), (c), and (e) of this section apply whether the applicant must take an examination or meets the requirements for waiver of examination. This deletion is not inconsistent with former Art. 56, § 468(c)(1) and (2), which specifically referred to registration "without examination" but did not refer to waiver of any other qualifications. Accordingly, subsection (c)(2) of this section is revised as an exemption from "the degree requirements", rather than the former admission "to take the examination requirement", since subsection (c)(2) of this section could apply to an applicant who also meets the requirements for waiver of examination.

In subsection (b) of this section, the term "good character and reputation" is standard language substituted for the former term "good moral character", to conform to similar provisions elsewhere in this article.

In subsection (c)(1)(i) and (ii) and (2) of this section, the phrase "in architecture" is added to clarify the type of experience and academic training that is required for licensing.

In subsection (c)(1)(ii) of this section, the word "additional" is added to modify the reference to "academic training", to clarify the former references to "practical experience including academic training". Since academic training is not illustrative of practical experience, the Business Occupations Article Review Committee concluded that the former word "including" was intended to allow the Board to determine appropriate experience and training.

In subsection (c)(1)(i) of this section, the word "after" is substituted for the former ambiguous word "of", to clarify the manner in which the 2-year period is to be measured.

In subsection (c)(2) of this section, the word "shall" is substituted for the former word "may" to clarify that the Board does not have discretion to deny an exemption to a qualified applicant once the Board chooses to set criteria for experience and training "that the Board considers appropriate".

Subsection (e) of this section is revised to state expressly that which only was implied in the former
