121G.

In the event that the United States government makes provisions for loans to prosecute drainage and reclamation work, or provides for such work to be done in whole or in part, under the supervision of its officials, the drainage districts to be created under §§ 103 – 121H are empowered to avail themselves of such provisions at any time. Provided that in order to facilitate the carrying out of any cooperative construction plan which may be agreed to by the United States and any district organized under the provisions of the aforesaid sections, the board of drainage commissioners of such district shall have the authority to issue the bonds of such district in such form and of such maturities as may be required by the United States, but no such contract or agreement between the district and the United States for such cooperative construction work shall be valid until a majority of the landowners of such district shall have given such contract their written approval. It shall be the duty of the officials of this State to solicit the cooperation of the various bureaus of the United States government in prosecuting drainage and the reclamation of agriculture lands.

DRAFTER'S NOTE:

Error: Incorrect cross-reference in Article 25, § 121G.
