736.

(a) If [a person] AN INDIVIDUAL is arrested, detained, or confined by a law enforcement agency for a suspected violation of a criminal law other than a nonincarcerable violation of the vehicle laws of the State or any other traffic law, ordinance, or regulation, and is released without being charged with the commission of a crime, [he] THE INDIVIDUAL may give written notice of these facts to any law enforcement agency which [he] THE INDIVIDUAL believes may have police records concerning that arrest, detention, or confinement, and request the expungement of those police records.

(b) (1) This notice may not be given prior to the expiration of the statute of limitations for tort actions arising from the incident unless the [person] INDIVIDUAL attaches to the notice a written general waiver and release, in proper legal form, of all claim he may have against any person for tortious conduct arising from the incident.

(2) The notice and waiver are not subject to expungement, but shall be maintained by the law enforcement agency at least until the expiration of any applicable statute of limitations.

(3) The notice must be given within eight years after the date of the incident.

(c) (1) The law enforcement agency shall, upon receipt of a timely filed notice, promptly investigate and attempt to verify the facts stated in the notice.

(2) If [it] THE LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY finds the facts to be verified, it shall:

(1) Make a diligent search for any police records concerning that arrest, detention, or confinement of the [person] INDIVIDUAL;

(2) Within 60 days after receipt of the notice, expunge the police records it has concerning that arrest, detention, or confinement; and

[(3) Notify any other law enforcement agency and the central repository it believes may have police records concerning that arrest, detention, or confinement of the notice and its verification of the facts contained in it. A copy of this notice shall be sent to the person requesting expungement.]

(III) SEND A COPY OF THE NOTICE AND THE LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY'S VERIFICATION OF THE FACTS CONTAINED IN THE NOTICE TO:

1. THE CENTRAL REPOSITORY;
