

In subsection (b)(6) of this section, the phrase "is not an agent or employee" is substituted for the former phrase "may not be considered to be an agent or employee" for consistency within this subtitle. See, e.g., § 11-703(c)(3).

Also in subsection (b)(6) of this section, the former reference to any "other" judicial officer is deleted to avoid the implication that the Sheriff or County is "judicial" in nature.

Also in subsection (b)(6) of this section, the former reference to any judicial officer "of the County" is deleted for accuracy. There are no judicial officers of the County. All courts in the County are State courts.

The Correctional Services Article Review Committee notes, for consideration by the General Assembly, that subsection (b)(6) of this section could be clarified by substituting a reference to "the court" for the more ambiguous reference to "judicial officer".

In subsection (b)(7)(ii) of this section, the reference to diminution "of the inmate's term of confinement" is added for consistency throughout this article. See General Revisor's Note to this article.

The Correctional Services Article Review Committee notes, for consideration by the General Assembly, that subsection (b)(8) of this section is one of many provisions in this article that relates to inmates who escape while legitimately outside the confines of a correctional facility (e.g., while on work release, home detention, pretrial release, weekend leave, compassionate leave, family leave, etc.). For a discussion of the Committee's perspective on these provisions, see § 3-305(c) of this article and accompanying Revisor's Note.

In subsection (d)(1)(i) of this section, the phrase "shall pay" is substituted for the former phrase "shall be obligated to pay" for brevity.

In subsection (d)(2) of this section, the reference to the authority to "bring" a civil action is substituted for the former reference to the authority to "maintain" a civil action for consistency with other revised articles of the Code. See, e.g., IN § 8-511(b)(2).
