

even though this subtitle is derived, in part, from material outside of former Art. 27, § 36-I. Because the material revised in this subtitle that was not contained in former Art. 27, § 36-I does not affect the application of this subtitle in a way contrary to the material set forth here, no substantive change results.

In subsection (a) of this section, the statement that this subtitle “does not affect a person’s right to” manufacture certain weapons is substituted for the former statement that “[n]othing in this section shall be construed to interfere with ... a person’s ability to” manufacture as a more precise statement of the effect of this subtitle.

In subsection (b)(1) and (2) of this section, the former references to an “entity” are deleted in light of the definition of “person”.

In subsection (b)(1) of this section, the phrase “is not strictly liable” is substituted for the former phrase “may not be held strictly liable” for clarity.

Also in subsection (b)(1) of this section, the former reference to damages “of any kind” is deleted as surplusage. Similarly, the former reference to injuries “sustained” is deleted.
