

candles” is retained although arguably included in the defined term “1.4 G fireworks”. However, the Public Safety Article Review Committee notes, for the consideration of the General Assembly, that the defined term “1.4 G fireworks” does not include all kinds of rockets or Roman candles.

In subsection (a)(3)(ii) of this section, the reference to the defined term “1.3 G fireworks” is substituted for the former reference to “1.3 G display fireworks” for consistency.

In subsection (b) of this section, the reference to a license “to operate a fireworks plant” is added for clarity.

Also in subsection (b) of this section, the reference to a license being “issued or renewed” is substituted for the former reference to the granting of a “new” license or renewal of a “currently effective” license for brevity.

In subsection (c)(1)(ii) of this section, the reference to being “in full compliance” is substituted for the former reference to “wholly in compliance” for clarity.

In subsection (c)(2) of this section, the reference to a “unit ... that is responsible for determining compliance with other applicable statutes, ordinances, and regulations” is substituted for the former reference to “agency responsible” for clarity.

In subsection (c)(3) of this section, the reference to the “unit of the State or political subdivision of the State that is responsible for determining compliance” is substituted for the former reference to “appropriate” agencies for clarity.

Also in subsection (c)(3) of this section, the reference to compliance “with the applicable statutes, ordinances, and regulations” is added for clarity.

In subsection (d) of this section, the reference to a “felony under federal law or any state law” is substituted for the former reference to “a crime defined as a felony under federal law or the laws of the state in which the conviction was adjudged, regardless of point in time” for brevity.

Also in subsection (d) of this section, the reference to a license “to operate a fireworks plant” is substituted for the former reference to a “fireworks manufacturing” license for consistency within this subtitle.

In subsection (e) of this section, the reference to “[t]he term of a license” is substituted for the former statement that “[a] license ... shall be issued for no longer than” for consistency.

In subsection (f) of this section, the reference to “[a]n applicant” is added to state affirmatively that an applicant must pay the licensing fee to operate a fireworks plant in the State.

In subsection (g) of this section, the former reference to the “additional effect” of a violation is deleted as unnecessary.