

insurer" is substituted for the former reference to "any company licensed to insure" boilers and pressure vessels for accuracy because insurers receive certificates of authority, not licenses, to operate.

In subsection (a)(1)(ii) of this section, the phrase "regulations adopted under this subtitle" is substituted for the former phrase "rules and regulations adopted by the Board" for accuracy and consistency with terminology used throughout this subtitle.

In subsections (c)(1), (f), (h)(2), and (i) of this section, the references to the "employer" are substituted for the former references to "a company described in subsection (a) of this section", "companies", "the company employing the special inspector", and "the company" for consistency throughout this section.

In subsection (d)(2)(ii) of this section, the word "limited" is substituted for the former word "confined" to use a more appropriate word in the context.

Subsection (e)(2) of this section is revised to clarify that the Commissioner may issue a special inspector commission to a representative of an employee organization covered by a collective bargaining agreement.

In subsection (h)(1) of this section, the former phrase "as defined by regulations adopted by the Commissioner" is deleted as surplusage.

In subsection (h)(2)(ii)3 of this section, the former reference to regulations adopted "by the Commissioner" under this subtitle is deleted as surplusage.

Subsection (j) of this section is revised to refer to "identification card[s]" of special inspectors for accuracy and to reflect the longstanding practice of the Commissioner.

In subsection (l)(1) of this section, the reference to a "special" inspector is substituted for the former inaccurate reference to a "licensed" inspector because inspectors are not licensed.
