

of such registration or not" is deleted as implicit in the reference to "use a registered returnable container".

In subsection (b)(1) of this section, the reference to an identifying mark "on a returnable container or returnable textile" is added for clarity.

Also in subsection (b)(1) of this section, the former reference to the prohibition that a person may not "erase, obliterate, cover up, or otherwise" remove an identifying mark is deleted as implicit in the prohibition that a person may not "deface, remove, conceal, or destroy" an identifying mark.

In subsection (d)(1) of this section, the reference to a "registered owner" is substituted for the former reference to the "one causing the same to be registered" for brevity.

Also in subsection (d)(1) of this section, the former prohibition that a person may not "have on sale, ... take, ... handle in the course of business, ... convey in any vehicle of any kind or character, ... deal in, or traffic in ..." a returnable container or returnable textiles is deleted as implicit in the prohibition that a person may not "buy, offer for sale, sell, use, give, receive, hire, rent, lend, transport, collect from ash or garbage receptacles or dumps, keep in stock or store, or dispose of" a returnable container or returnable textile.

Also in subsection (d)(1) of this section, the former reference to "parts or pieces" of a returnable container is deleted as implicit in the reference to a returnable container.

In the introductory language of subsection (e) of this section, the former reference to applying the prohibition to a "corporation" is deleted in light of the defined term "person". See § 1-101 of this article.

In subsection (e)(2) of this section, the former reference to a returnable container or returnable textiles that are "used" is deleted as implicit in the reference to a returnable container or returnable textile that is "in use".

Also in subsection (e)(2) of this section, the former reference to use by a person in good faith "whether under the provisions of this article or otherwise" is deleted as implicit in the reference to a returnable container or returnable textile that is "in use".

In subsections (f)(1) and (g)(1) of this section, the statements that a "person ... may not fail" to surrender or clean a certain container or textile are substituted for the former statements that it is the "duty" of a person to surrender or clean certain containers or textiles, for clarity and consistency.

In subsection (g)(1) of this section, the former reference to "milk or cream" is deleted as included in the reference to a "dairy product".
