

(1) a description of each of the components of the early resolution process;

(2) data on the effect of the Office of the State's Attorney reviewing criminal charges for the period from June 1, 2001 to September 30, 2002, including the number of charges reviewed, number of charges filed, number of charges reduced, and number of charges declined;

(3) data on the effects of the early resolution docket at CBIF for the period from June 1, 2001 to September 30, 2002, including the number of cases screened at early resolution court, the number of early resolution offers made, the number of original offers accepted, the number of defendants requesting trial, the number of defendants actually going to trial, the average number of days for a plea offer to be made to a defendant, and the number of early resolution cases which were not resolved as part of the court of early resolution and which received a more severe sentence or resolution than the original offer made as part of early resolution;

(4) data on the effects of the citation docket at the Eastside Courthouse for the period from the commencement of the docket in May 2002 to September 30, 2002, including the number of cases scheduled, the number of cases in which the defendant is offered community service, the number of cases in which the defendant accepts community service, the number of cases in which the defendant completes community service, the number of officer appearances, the number of cases in which the Public Defender represents the defendant, and the number of early resolution cases which were not resolved as part of the court of early resolution and which received a more severe sentence or resolution than the original offer made as part of early resolution;

(5) data on the diversion program at Part 7 of the Eastside Courthouse from the commencement of the docket in May 2002 to September 30, 2002, including the criteria for participation in the diversion program, the number of cases eligible for the program, the number of cases in which the defendant was offered drug treatment, the number of cases in which the defendant was not offered drug treatment, the number of cases in which the defendant rejected drug treatment, and the number of cases in which the defendant completed drug treatment;

(6) a breakdown of the State and local funding for the early resolution program (including funding for drug treatment for criminal justice offenders) for the District Court, DPSCS, OPD, and the Baltimore City State's Attorney's Office. This breakdown of funding shall list the amount of State and local funding the District Court, DPSCS, OPD, and the Baltimore City State's Attorney's Office have applied or will apply to the early resolution program. Funding for State's Attorney charging, the early resolution docket at CBIF, and the citation docket at the Eastside Courthouse shall be listed separately. The State and local funding shall be separated in the report. Further, these breakdowns shall be given for fiscal 2001 through 2003 and shall include both direct and indirect State and local funding;