

intended to be "taken up by" a collector for clarity.

Also in subsection (a)(2) of this section, the former reference to a token that is "used" to be inserted into a box is deleted in light of the reference to a token that is "intended or designed" to be inserted into a box.

In subsection (b) of this section, the references to "permission" are substituted for the former reference to "authority" for clarity.

Also in subsection (b) of this section, the references to a person who "lawfully" issues, sells, or gives away the token is added for clarity.

Also in subsection (b) of this section, the former references to the authority of a person "or corporation" are deleted in light of § 1-101 of this article, which provides that "person" includes a corporation.

Also in subsection (b) of this section, the defined term "counterfeit" in various grammatical inflections is substituted for the former references to "mak[ing]", "forg[ing]", or "counterfeit[ing]" for consistency within this article.

In subsection (b)(1) of this section, the former reference to "procur[ing]" another to commit counterfeiting is deleted as included in the reference to "caus[ing]" another to commit counterfeiting.

In subsection (b)(2) of this section, the former reference to a token "so issued, sold or given away by any person or corporation" is deleted as implicit in prohibiting certain acts "without the permission of the person that issues, sells, or gives away the token".

In subsection (c) of this section, the reference to a person being "subject to imprisonment" is substituted for the former reference to a person being "sentenced to the jail or house of correction" for consistency within this article. Currently, inmates are sentenced to the custody of a unit such as the Division of Correction and then are placed in a particular facility. See CS § 9-103.

Also in subsection (c) of this section, the former reference to a person being subject to imprisonment on conviction "in any court of this State" is deleted as implicit.
