6-103.

(d) The Attorney General shall be the legal advisor to the Department of Human Resources. The [Secretary] ATTORNEY GENERAL shall assign to the Department such number of assistant Attorneys General as are now authorized by law to be assigned to the various departments, agencies, boards, commissions, councils, or units which are herein, or may hereafter by law be deemed to be part of the Department of Human Resources; and the [Secretary] ATTORNEY GENERAL shall also assign to the Department such additional number of assistant Attorneys General as may hereafter be authorized by law for such Department. One of the said assistant Attorneys General shall be designated by the Attorney General as counsel to the Department of Human Resources. The counsel to the Department shall have no duty other than to render, subject to the discretion and control of the Attorney General, such legal aid, advice and counsel as the Secretary and the other officials of said Department may require, and the supervision of the other assistant Attorneys General assigned to the Department. After the Attorney General has designated an assistant Attorney General to serve as counsel to the Department, the Attorney General may not reassign that counsel without consultation with the Secretary. The counsel to the Department of Human Resources, and the other assistant Attorneys General so employed, shall each perform such legal duties for the Department as the Attorney General may from time to time assign to them; and the Attorney General is
