

Subsection (b) of this section is new language derived without substantive change from the second sentence and the first clause of the first sentence of former Art. 89, § 47.

Subsection (c) of this section is new language derived without substantive change from the second sentence of former Art. 89, § 49B(1) and, as it related to appointment, the first sentence.

Subsection (d) of this section is new language derived without substantive change from former Art. 89, § 97(b) and, as it related to appointment, (a).

Subsection (e)(1) and (2)(ii) of this section is new language derived without substantive change from the first and second clauses of the fifth sentence and the second clause of the sixth sentence of former Art. 89, § 11.

Subsection (e)(2)(i) of this section is standard language added for clarity. This addition is supported by the reference to "ordinary salary" in the second clause of the sixth sentence of former Art. 89, § 11.

Subsection (f) of this section is new language derived without substantive change from the first clause of the fourth sentence and the fifth and sixth sentences of former Art. 89, § 49.

Subsection (g) of this section is new language derived without substantive change from the fourteenth sentence of former Art. 89, § 1.

In subsection (a)(1) of this section, the phrase "of Labor and Industry" is added to reflect the title currently used for the deputy commissioner.

The introductory language of subsection (a)(4) of this section, "[i]n addition to any powers and duties set forth elsewhere", is standard language added to clarify that the enumerated authority may not be exclusive.

In subsection (a)(4)(iii) of this section, a general reference to an inability of the Commissioner "to perform the duties of office" is substituted for the former specific reference to "death, resignation, disability, or disqualification of the Commissioner", for brevity and, in light of subsection (a)(4)(ii) of this section, for clarity.

In subsection (b) of this section, the former phrase "of labor and industry" is deleted from the title of the assistant commissioner, to conform to the title used currently for the assistant commissioner.

In subsection (e)(1) of this section, the former word "designate" is deleted as included in the word "appoint".

Also in subsection (e)(1) of this section, the former reference to appointment of "a deputy" as the chief mediator is deleted to avoid confusion with the position of deputy commissioner of labor and industry. Chapter 406, Acts of 1916, first enabled the "Board of Labor and Statistics" to designate a deputy as chief mediator. Later, after the "Board" had become the "Department" of