

(2) ANOTHER PERSON WHO, WITHOUT THE ACT OR THREAT OF FRAUD OR VIOLENCE, ADVISES, INDUCES, OR URGES A PARTY TO DISREGARD THE PROMISE.

REVISOR'S NOTE: Subsection (a) of this section is new language added to avoid repetition of the words "undertaking or promise" and of the words "express", "implied", "oral", and "written".

Subsections (b) and (c) of this section are new language derived without substantive change from former Art. 100, § 64.

In the introductory language of subsection (b) of this section, the phrase "of the State" is substituted for the former word "public", to provide more precise language and to conform to the language of § 4-302 of this subtitle.

Also in the introductory language of subsection (b) of this section, the former word "hereafter" is deleted as obsolete, since it apparently referred to the effective date of former Art. 100, § 64, which was June 1, 1935. This deletion does not intend to make promises made before June 1, 1935, subject to this section.

In subsection (b)(1), (2), and (3) of this section, the former references to "some specific labor organization" and "some specific employer organization" are deleted as unnecessary since they are included in the broad reference to "an employer or labor organization".

In the introductory language of subsection (c) of this section, the words "legal or equitable", which formerly modified the word "relief", are deleted as unnecessary since "any relief" would encompass both "legal" and "equitable", which are the only types of relief that a court grants.

The Labor and Employment Article Review Committee notes, for consideration by the General Assembly, that the introductory language of subsection (b) of this section may be overly broad to the extent that a labor organization is an "association, company, corporation, or firm".
