

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

Annapolis, January 20th, 1864.

To the Senate :

Gentlemen : I submit for your advice and consent the following nominations :

James Beck, of George, to be Judge of Orphans' Court of Kent County, in place of same, elected by the people and failed to qualify within the time prescribed by law.

John W. Woolford, to be Judge of Orphans' Court of Dorchester county, in place of William J. Lambdin, elected by the people, but who, being in default to the Treasury, cannot be commissioned.

A. W. BRADFORD.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

Annapolis, January 27th, 1864.

To the Senate :

Gentlemen :—I nominate for your advice and consent, Andrew McIntyre of Cecil county, as Commissioner of Public Works, in place of Levin E. Straughn, elected by the people of the Fourth Commissioner District, and who has failed to qualify within the time and in the manner prescribed by law.

I deem it proper, in connection with this nomination, to call to your attention the circumstances under which it is made.

By the 2d section of the 68th article of the Code of General Laws, the Commissioners of Public Works with other officers
