

Q. Did you see a good many hard cases brought up and voted?

A. There were some of them dressed as genteely as other people.

Q. Were there any who looked as if they had been kept in a coop for a couple of days?

A. I am not able to judge of how people look when they come out of coops, but I don't think they did.

Q. You say that the election was conducted peaceably with one exception?

A. About half-past nine.

Q. Do you think it was safe for persons to approach the polls after that time?

A. I hardly knew when the firing took place, when Mr. Martin was at the window I put my head out, and I saw Mr. Mott, cashier of the Farmers, and Merchants Bank, come up and vote. After that, there was no other difficulty.

Q. You did not have a commanding view of Levy's door on that day?

A. I looked out frequently. I saw nobody going out nor in more than I would if it had not been a drinking house.

By Mr. Stockbridge—Q. Were you aware, or had you received any information, or supposed that there was a coop, or deposit of arms, at Erasmus Levy's house?

A. No, sir, and I don't believe there was.

Q. Nor in that vicinity?

A. Nor in that vicinity.

Q. Did you think that that was a fair and proper place for holding the election?

A. I do. It has been held there, I think, for years. I have voted at that polls frequently.

T. H. Hubbard sworn.

By Mr. Hagner—Witness. I live in the tenth ward. I was at the election in November last. I arrived at the polls perhaps a quarter before nine, and remained until about half-past ten. I voted the Reform ticket, and had no difficulty in voting.

Q. Did you see any disturbance at the polls during the day?

A. There was some shooting in the morning, and the Reformers got scared, and a good many of them ran away. I ran too, but afterwards came back and voted, and I saw a good many other people voting. After the shooting, I saw no obstruction to voting.

Q. Did you see a man by the name of Fisher there?

A. I did.
