

books of this kind. The cost of the first is $1.25, and the second 87½ cents, and they can be had of all the prominent booksellers in Baltimore.

In my opinion the best book upon agricultural chemistry is that of M. J. Pierre, published in Paris. As it is in the French language, is of course not accessible to all, but to those who can read it, I would strongly recommend the book. It is a duodecimo of 523 pages, and not expensive.
