

The object of the present work is to present a complete and accurate account of the life and work of the author, as far as it is known to the public. The author's life is a story of a man who was born in a poor family, but who by his own efforts and the assistance of his friends, rose to a position of high honor and respect. His work was devoted to the service of his country and his fellow-men, and he was a true patriot and a true friend. His life was a life of sacrifice and of self-denial, and his work was a work of love and of devotion. His life and work are a source of inspiration and of encouragement to all who are true to their duty and to their principles.
