

Order; there were some of the opposite party came up from lower down, who separated the soldiers from the polls, and got them off. "I would not take the oath and vote as they pleased." They stopped the polls about an hour, while this thing was being done. I asked him how he made out himself, he being a candidate and Judge of election; he said he had some doubts about this himself, but his friends told him to hold on; he also told me that he had an advertisement in his pocket, intending to stick it up, and not run as candidate, but his friends persuaded him not to do it.

Ques.—Did he say anything as to his serving?

Ans.—He told me that he did not know whether he would serve or not.

Question. By Mr. Jones.—What time did you hear Col. Woolford say this?

Ans.—It was the day after the election, before the polls had all come in. Charles T. Marshall, another witness, heard the same.

Charles T. Marshall's Testimony.

1st General Question.—Were you a voter in Somerset County at the general election, November, 1863. If yea, state in what district.

Ans.—Yes, Sir—in Princess Anne.

Question.—Did you go to any other polls during that day?

Ans.—I went up to Dublin polls. When I first arrived there, the soldiers were at the polls; I think there were two in the house where the polls were conducted. I saw two men challenged. I do not know what ticket they were going to vote. They said they were Union men. I saw some persons voting without being challenged; they were generally considered Democrats. As well as I remember, all that I saw challenged were Union men. I saw Democrats voting, but saw none of them challenged. I knew they were Democrats from what they pretended to be, and I judge Union men in the same way. I did not see the inside of their tickets.

Ques.—Did you hear Mr. Woolford say anything about the election, the day after, at Princess Anne.

Ans.—I think it was the day after the election, I heard him say that whether he was elected or not, he did not consider it a fair election.

Question. By Mr. Jones.—When did he say this?
