

Ans.—Yes, sir.

Ques.—Was he a Democrat?

Ans.—Yes, sir. He was supporting the Democratic ticket as far as I know. Edward H. W. Ford would have voted the Democratic ticket but did not; Nathan J. Lankford was there intending to vote—he told me that he intended to vote the Democratic ticket; James S. Anderson and Francis Dashiell would have voted the Democrat ticket.

Ques.—Do you know any other Democrats in that District besides those that you have named, who were at the polls on that day and did not vote?

Ans.—Yes, sir. There were several who did not go from the fact of rumors of military interference.

Question by Mr. Hagner.—Did you make this list out?

Ans.—Yes, sir.

Ques.—Did no one assist you?

Ans.—No, sir. J. D. Simkins, Marcellus White, Levin Stores, Sr., John J. Scott, Sr. and Jr., Nathan White and James Willing, Arthur Davis, Risdon Davis—these persons I am personally acquainted with, and know exactly how they would have voted, if they had not been intimidated from voting.

Ques.—Didn't you say there were others about the voting place whom you cannot recall?

Ans.—Yes, sir, quite a number.

Ques.—You stated that you have been a Judge of election and acquainted with a great number of persons there, what is the usual Democrat vote in that district?

Ans.—Well, it has varied. For the last four years the entire Democrat vote has been some 40. There has been quite a change recently.

Ques.—Do you recollect the Union vote in Dame's Quarter in 1861?

Ans.—In 1861 the Union vote was 64.

Joseph Brattan's testimony:

[This witness was returned as elected, at the last November election, one of the judges of the Orphans' Court on the Democrat ticket.]

Ques.—Will you please state if you were a voter in Somerset county at the last election, and in what district?
