

1)

900
Eden, Robert
H.A.

M+M V. II 1907 *

p. 66-7

ref. to Eden Correspondence

pp. 1-13

Correspondence of Gov. Eden

pp. 97-110

Correspondence of Gov. Eden 1775-77

p. 104

Eden informed Ye is to be created Baronet letter of Sept. 7, 1776

p. 109

Letter from Mr. Eddis to Eden July 23, 1777

"formed battery from Mr. Walter Durland's Let round the Water's Edge to the Granary adjoining your Garden - - - from your Wharf to the Hill where Callihorne lived

pp. 227-244

Correspondence of Gov. Eden 1769-1771

pp. 293-309

Correspondence - 1771-75
included is letter asking permission to return to Eng. if needed for personal reasons

MMH XLV
p. 153

Portrait of A Colonial Governor by Rosemond Randall Beirne

Eden owned house previously rented by Sharpe for Governor's town house
House overlooked junction of Severn & Spa Creek

Caroline Eden

da. of Charles Calvert & Mary, da. of Sir
Theodore Janssen

p. 155

Eden's father d. leaving 11 children, eldest age 15

Wm. Eden - secretary to Pitt & under secretary of State

Capt. Thomas - ship between Ind. & England in tobacco trade. Founded mercantile firm of J. Eden & Co.

p. 156

Benedict Calvert - wife's half brother

Caroline Eden niece of Gov. Bladen's wife

p. 158

enlarged & redesigned his house (it stood on site of present Bancroft Hall)

MAM Vol XLV 1950

p. 159

Eden bought two "Why-not" from Horatio Sharpe
Purchased other horsesled list of subscribers to Theatre established in 1771

Admitted as Honorary member of club - "Harmony"

friendly with Rev. Jonathan Baucke of St.
Anne's - Annapolis

p 163

By Frederick Calvert's will - Eden executorHis children would inherit Colony lacking
 heirs to Harford children

p 170

wrote John Montgomery in classical Latin

p 174

About Eden by Rev Baucke
 "handsome, lively & sensible man habits
 of expense & dissipation as well fatal to his fortune and at length his life with income of 3 or 4 thousand pounds a year, he was always in debt, and although he had great quickness of parts & a large experience of the world, he was a bad politician, as being not sufficiently steady & firm. Few equalled him in letter writing."

Eden had library of French books.

In letter to Colonial Office, Aug. 27, 1775 he quoted Montesquieu, Locke & Blackstone

p. 175

poem about Eden by Thomas Jennings of Asmory Club

"With slow & solemn pace
the grave Sir Robert civilly brow & unaffected air

indowment for the dancing at

other apocryphs of Eden

Bruden's opinion - "warmth & affection of heart that it was impossible not to love him."

p. 294 - 311

Left Goring on 20-gun ship "Fowey". Transferred off Va. Capes to "Levant". Arrived Eng. - Aug. 1776

Harford Breorning law case over Lord Baltimore's will thrown out of court because colonies declared independence

Luggage left behind & confiscated along with contents of his house by State of Md.

p. 295 visited sister (wife of Bishop of Bangor) & visited Quaker - seat of his brother settled in London

p. 297 sent youngest son to school at Mr. Bruden's in 1779. Sir Robert advanced £1200 from Harford

3)

960
Eden, Robert
A.A

MHM V. XLV 1950

p. 297

Robert Eden granted £800 pension by his government

Eden returned to Md. @ 1782 on ship "Harford" to try to regain property

Stayed at town house of Mr. Upton Scott on Shyemight St. with Harford, Robert Smith & John Clapham.

p 302

Eden had fallen into ill health

p 303

Maryland Journal + Baltimore Advertiser of Fri. Sept 11, 1784

"departed this life after long indisposition, Sir Robert Eden, Bart. who presided as Gov. of this State prior to Rev.

The Gentlemen Mag.

Had returned to Md. to recover property that came to him from late Lord Balt. whose sister he married.

p 304

burial place uncertain - probably St. Margarets

1926 - Remains found at old St. Margarets - Thought to be Edens + moved to St. Anne's.