

Intendants Office 15th June 1785.

Dear Sir,

The Summer is advancing fast, and Mr Clarke the undertaker says, that unless the Scantling (especially the heavy part of it) is immediately sent over it will be impossible for him to get the Sted-House covered in the course of this year. — As from the wetness of the season you are apprehensive there is no probability of getting the large Timbers out of the Swamp in time, you would do well to signify it, that the Intendant (who is now at the head of the Bay) may look out elsewhere — no time ought to be lost — with great regard, I am

Sir,
