

N.Y. Spotlight On M'Keldin

The Maryland Governor had top billing at the sixty-sixth annual Lincoln Day dinner of the National Republican Club, held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The Herald Tribune also printed a full text of Governor McKeldin's address, in which he predicted the downfall of the "mink dynasty" in Washington.

Early editions of the New York Times, on the other hand, placed the report of the Governor's speech on Page 20, under a headline which featured an address by Senator Ives.

The Daily News devoted a little more than a column to the Governor's appearance in New York, including a picture.
