

Mayor Ending Vacation Of 3 Weeks Abroad

Mayor McKeldin returns to City Hall today from a three-week vacation in England.

The trip was the longest of twenty separate excursions out of the city he has made since January 1. Some were for city business, some for political or personal business, and others for relaxation.

Eve, Sun

The Mayor's absences from Baltimore have brought him criticism on occasion. But members of his staff point to the long working days (twelve to fourteen hours) and the working Sundays he puts in when in Baltimore.

Diary Record

Mr. McKeldin's own office diary lists this record of his travels since January 1:

Monday, January 18—Washington, meeting of United States Conference of Mayors.

Tuesday, January 19—Washington, afternoon reception for mayors at White House.

Wednesday, January 20—Washington, inauguration of President Johnson.

Long Weekend

Friday, February 5 to Sunday, February 7—Long weekend at the Homestead, Hot Springs, Va.

Sunday, February 21, to Friday, February 26—Rome, elevation of Lawrence Cardinal Shehan.

Sunday, February 28—Chicago, speech for Israel bonds.

Sunday, March 7—Washington. B'nai B'rith testimonial luncheon speech.

Eve, Sun

Housing Speech

Monday, March 15—Washington, speech to convention of the National Housing Conference.

Tuesday, March 16—Annapolis, conference with Governor Tawes on legislation.

Thursday, March 18—Washington, testimony before congressional committee on Assateague Island national seashore.

Friday, March 19—New York, attending performance of Baltimore Symphony at Carnegie Hall.

Harrisburg Speech

Saturday, March 20—Harrisburg, Pa., speech to the Order of De Molay.

Friday, March 26—Philadelphia, evening speech to Young Republican Club at University of Pennsylvania.

Tuesday, March 30—Washington National League of Cities Legislative Conference and White House dinner.

Tuesday, April 6—Washington, morning testimony on public housing before Senate committee.

Wednesday, April 14—Philadelphia, Lenten service at Christ Church.

Monday, April 19, and Tuesday April 20—Boston, dedication of Prudential Center.

Thursday, April 22—New York, speech to management trainees at Western Electric Company on government service.

Friday, April 30, to Friday, May 7—Ocean cruise to Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands.

Wednesday, June 9, to Tuesday, June 29—Vacation in England.