

DEATH OF GEN. WM. LINGAN GAITHER.

A telegraphic despatch from Berkeley Springs announces the death at that place, on Monday morning last, of Gen. WILLIAM LINGAN GAITHER, of Montgomery county, Maryland. Gen. GAITHER was well known as a prominent politician. He represented his county for several years in the House of Delegates and also in the State Senate, of which body he was a member at the time of his lamented death. The deceased was distinguished for his high-toned gentlemanly qualities and eminent talents. Somewhat over a year ago Gen. GAITHER was attacked severely with typhoid fever, and never fully recovered from its effects. He had gone to Berkeley Springs in the hope of recuperating, but his constitution was too much impaired.
