Annapolis District Court Judge Martha F. Rasin has been named administrative judge for District 7, which includes the Annapolis and Glen Burnie courts, effective Oct. 30.

Robert F. Sweeney, chief judge of the District Court system, announced the appointment yesterday. Judge Rasin succeeds Judge Clayton Greene Jr., who was appointed Thursday to the Anne Arundel County Circuit Court by Gov. Parris N. Glendening.

Judge Rasin has been a District Court judge for six years. She was chairman of the District Court Judicial Education Committee and a member of an ad hoc committee to implement changes in Maryland's domestic laws.
