MISS SZOLD URGES REFUGE FOR YOUTHS
10,000 Await Aid to Escape From Indigenties of Life in Germany, She Says.
TELLS OF ALIYAH'S WORK
Founder of Hadassah is Honored at Luncheon Here Attended by Leaders in Social Work.

Waiting in Germany to escape the "humiliation and indignities" of the Hitler regime are 10,000 Jewish adolescents who need the aid of sympathetic friends and the understanding of the free world if they are to escape from a regime of forced emigration and exile.

Miss Henrietta Szold, organizer and leader of Youth Aliyah, the movement for the immigration of Jewish youth to Palestine, spoke yesterday at a luncheon held at the New York City Auditors at 99 Park Avenue. The luncheon was part of the celebration of Miss Szold's 80th birthday.

Miss Szold told a large group of leaders in social work that Youth Aliyah already had brought 900 Jewish children from Germany to Palestine and had established a home for them. The movement for the immigration of Jewish children is under the auspices of Hadassah, of which Miss Szold is president.

Speaking for Youth Aliyah, Miss Szold said that the movement was working to bring Jewish children of all ages to Palestine.

"There are 10,000 adolescents, between the ages of 12 and 16, waiting in Germany for the opportunity of emigration," Miss Szold said. "We have an office in Frankfurt to take care of them." Miss Szold also spoke of the need for the continued support of Youth Aliyah.

Jewish Children Embittered

"The children are living in a world of despair," Miss Szold said. "They are embittered by the conditions in Germany." Miss Szold said that the children had been subjected to continual humiliation.

Discussing immigration in Palestine, Miss Szold said that the movement for the immigration of Jewish children was working to establish a social service program in Palestine to help the children adjust to their new environment.

Miss Szold discussed the efforts of Youth Aliyah to establish a social service program in Palestine to help the children adjust to their new environment. The program would deal with the habits and customs of two different cultures.

Miss Szold also spoke of the importance of education in the efforts of Youth Aliyah. She said that education was the key to the future of the children.

Miss Szold ended her speech by saying that Youth Aliyah was working to bring Jewish children to Palestine and that the movement was working to establish a social service program in Palestine to help the children adjust to their new environment.

She said that the movement for the immigration of Jewish children was working to establish a social service program in Palestine to help the children adjust to their new environment. The program would deal with the habits and customs of two different cultures.

Discussing immigration in Palestine, Miss Szold said that the movement for the immigration of Jewish children was working to establish a social service program in Palestine to help the children adjust to their new environment. The program would deal with the habits and customs of two different cultures.

Miss Szold ended her speech by saying that Youth Aliyah was working to bring Jewish children to Palestine and that the movement was working to establish a social service program in Palestine to help the children adjust to their new environment.
Miss Szold said that Zionists deplore the hastened temper into which we have been forced by the situation in Germany and lack sufficient time to think how best to assimilate the masses. She felt, however, that the cooperative settlements had proved a solution and that only lack of funds was delaying the movement.

Paul U. Kellogg, editor of The Survey and The Survey Graphic, presided.