

Last Friday's lynchings means that women whatever their color shall walk the public roads of the county without being insulted or assaulted or that some convenient tree will know the reason why.