

WITH infinite regret I inform the public, that being without 'accounts' from Mr. DAVID PLUNKET since his departure from hence for the West-Indies in October last, there is too much reason to apprehend his loss: In consequence of this misfortune, as severe as it was unexpected, the Partnership of Stewart and Plunket expires with this day: And all persons indebted to them are earnestly requested to make immediate payment; and those who have demands against said firm, will please bring them forward, for settlement, to

DAVID STEWART,

Surviving partner of Stewart & Plunket.

Baltimore, April 30, 1794.

The partnership of Stewart and Plunket being dissolved, business will, in future, be conducted under the firm of

DAVID STEWART & SONS;

Who offer for Sale;

A few boxes of well-assorted Irish linens and diapers; an assortment of German linens, consisting of Osnaburgs, Ticklenburgs, Hessens, and brown rolls; Russia sheetings; bed-ticks; Holland duck, and Irish canvas.

They have also to dispose of,

A quantity of green coffee, and one hundred hogheads of West-India rum.

Baltimore, May 1, 1794.
