

War between England and Spain; His Court does not seem to be of a nature either of these Affairs, we con- sider Preparations, that we may be ready to receive by the Mouth of our Can- nels Expedients can be found.

Expenses from Madrid say, that though made no Progress in any material Negotiation, his Excellency has never- theless Assurances that his Catholic Ma- jesty's precise Orders to the Guards of the West Indies, to be more cautious for- ward in taking English Ships, his Majesty that all those who are not clearly and justly suspected, of carrying on a Trade, be immediately released, &c. We learn from Genoa, that the Re- public in the Bisagno, has not pro- ceed as was at first imagined; that many remain still in Arms, and several seditious Papers in the Na- mes, in which amongst other Things is the Luxury and Excess of the Nobil- ity, that they are more able to support the Liberties of the State, than laborious and industrious Mechanics; and that it is to do it, because their present Dis- fruits of their past Intrigues; in which no People had no Share. From Paw, in the Principality of Pyrenees, that they have had a Succession for many Years past; that the covering the Earth to such a Depth, not being able to reach any Thing but were driven by Hunger to fall into Villages, in Troops of an hun- dred and fifty at a Time, and Women, Children, and even armed they left nothing but the Skull and Bones at the whole Country is at present in those terrible Enemies, of whom the good Fortune to destroy great

Letters from Fort St. David's, the Dragon, Capt. Kent, we are in- terested in the Interest of the English is said to be a near Relation of the King of Golconda, had called upon the twenty thousand Rupees, towards the French, which with some of our Forces had entrenched under Fort St. David's strong enough to meet the French, of their new Ally. We also hear, that the French Governor General, the Dutch in a little Settlement within the Territories ceded to the new King of Golconda, that ought to remain there, and desired to depart. In Consequence of which the Dutch packed up their Goods, and embarked in a large Vessel, which departed at Sea, and all the People the following noble Persons will be his Majesty, Lords of the Regency, Majesty's Residence at Hanover; the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Chancellor, the Duke of Dorset, the Duke of Ireland; Duke of Grafton, Duke of Marlborough, Lord Earl Gower, Lord Privy Seal; Newcastle, and the Earl of Holderness; Marquis of Hartington, the Duke of Leeds; the Auditor of the Exchequer; Lord of the Admiralty; and the Hon. Chancellor of the Exchequer, and the Lord Chief Justice of the Rolls.

Jamaica, February 29, 1752. It is said that there are a great Number of Negroes have been pyracically taken, now in the Kingdom of Cuba, lying in a Manner; as also that there were several taken, and brought into St. Domingo, the Masters of whom were set at Liberty, and their Vessels and Goods sold. That he went to Martinico, where they were Governor of their Usage, who in- tended to the Governor of St. Jago to be might depend that if immediate Justice is not made to said Masters, said Martinico would be under a Necessity to send a Fleet, in order to make such Reprisals as they should see proper. They may not only receive Satisfaction, but better Behaviour for the future.

ANAPOLIS. The Assembly of this Province is to meet Monday next.

Early this Morning died of the Small-Pox, at his House in Baltimore County, Col. THOMAS SHERRIDINE, who was for many Years one of the Representatives and Magistrates of that County, and at the Time of his Death High Sheriff thereof. His Deportment in all Stations of Life gain'd him a general Esteem; and we may justly say, he liv'd beloved, and died lamented. We hear that Mr. Thomas Sherridine, his Son, will succeed him as High Sheriff of the said County.
